

I'd Rather be Fishing!

Designed by Toni Curry, TLC Promotions
For the Community Warehouse Chair Affair CA+ on March 15th 2012

There are three full views of the chair above, including one folded. This fully transportable chair comes with a shoulder strap and an insulated cooler. At left and below: Detail of the vinyl fish that decorate the arms and legs of the chair, the original painting on the front, and the vinyl lettering on the bottom.

Many thanks to Paula & Michael @ Portland Badge & Sign who worked with me and donated the vinyl design and to Chris @ the TravelChair Company for donating the chair.

The title of this year's chair is "I would rather be fishing." I thought it would be fun to create a chair that was totally functional in addition to being a work of art. I took the challenge presented to this year's chair artists by CW Chair Affair+ organizer, Miriam Hecht, to create a chair that was weatherproof. Please check out the added value donations that accompany this chair at the event on March 15th, 2012. It is one of many for sale at the 2012 CW Table and Chair Affair.

This year's chair is dedicated to my Dad, William Oyer of Chicago, Illinois. I have great memories of sitting in a boat on Lake Milton in Northeastern, Ohio fishing with my Dad. It was just me, him, the lake and the fish. It didn't matter if we caught anything - we were just there on the quiet of lake together.
